

DePaul University Archives: Kim Nolan Zine Collection

Kim Nolan Zine Collection

Date Range: 1986-1997

Quantity: 4 Record Center Cartons (5 linear feet)

Description of Collection

After learning of DePaul University's involvement in the Underground Press Conference, former student Kim Nolan donated her personal collection of zines in 1997.

The Kim Nolan Collection is a mixture of zines created between years 1986-1997, and does not contain the full run of most zine titles. Most of the collection can be divided into four categories: Music zines, Personal zines, Social/Political zines, and zines dealing with Women's Issues and are arranged alphabetically by zine title. Zines that do not fit into these categories cover a wide range of topics, including literature and poetry, comics, and other special interests. Nolan's involvement in the early 1990s hardcore and straight-edge music scene, as well as her interest in feminism and activism, is evident throughout the collection.

Processed: January – June 2005, RCB; Additions to collection were sent by donor in May 2007
